He Hopes to Be One of Those Who Bid for Big Business.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) cross-examination to-day in the government's suit to dissolve the steel trust, Charles M. Schwab, first president of the concern, declared it would would be easily possible for another company to establish itself as a rival of the trust. Mr. Schwab said he had hopes that his own company, the Bethlehem Steel Company, might be the one to bid for big business against the trust.

Jacob M. Dickinson, formerly Secretary of War, counsel for the government at the hearings, then took up the negotiations for the buying of the Carnegie works and the general consolidation of the various steel in-terests. The witness admitted that when the consolidation had been effected the Morgan, Carnegie, Rocke-feller, Standard Oll and Moore in-terests were intact. The witness said he did not know of any interests that Mr. Schwab said Mr. Carnegie got bonds for his share of the consolidation, and he himself got stock and bonds.

New Budget Adopted.

The annual budget for the coming fiscal year contemplates an added income of $1,250 above the budget of the year which closes on July 1. A number of appropriations were made, including $10,000 for the purpose of erecting a house to be occupied by Dean Page. It was decided that the dignity of the office as maintained by Dean Page justifies the erection or a home for the dean of imposing as well as comfortable appointments, and the board, therefore, made the appropriation. A site on the McCormick Road will probably be chosen and work of construction will be started as soon as possible.

The new entrance to the university and the new gate and building at the "corner" will cost more than was at first estimated, so the original appropriation of $20,000 was increased to $25,000. These improvements will be completed early in the fall, and will be a notable addition to the architectural beauty of the university.

A sewage purification plant will soon be constructed. For this purpose the board set aside $1,500. It was also decided to creat a new office, known as sanitary inspector, to be by appropriating $350 to help pay the expenses of the reunion, which is being worked out along lines more elaborate and extensive than were dream-ed of at first. A proposal to cdeate the office of permanent alumni secre-tary, whose duties will be confined chiefly to an endeavor to bring about closer and more enduring organiza-tion among the alumni, met yith the approval of every member board. An appropriation of $1,500 was made to the summer school.

MARRIAGE NO BAR

Witness Announces Engagement, Despite Fact He Has Wife.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

New York, May 21.—Jules E. Brulatour, an importer, created a mild sensation to-day before Supreme Court Justice Platzek by declaring openly that he is engaged to marry Miss Dora Gibson, although he has a wife who is not divorced. Brulatour was in court to defend an action brought by Mrs. Julia Smith, who asks $20,000 damages for the death of her husband. She alleges he was killed by Brulatour's automobile. It appears that Miss Gibson was in the car at the time, Brulatour having loaned it to her.

Miss Gibson was in the car at the time, Brulatour having loaned it to her.

She filed an affidavit declaring the car was running slowly and that Smith had stepped in the way. The jury was directed to bring in a verdict of $4,000 for Mrs. Smith.

"One of the lawyers has made insinuations." Brulatour volunteered, after he had concluded his testimony, "and I want to straighten matters out. Miss Gibson is my fiancee, and I intend to marry her as soon as I get a divorce from my wife."

"Do you intend to bring a suit for divorce against your wife, or she against you?" he was asked.

"I am a gentleman, sir," Brulatour replied, "and I have been in consultation with my wife's lawyers."

"Oh, then, you're giving her the evidence." said the importer, "but my wife intends to bring suit against me, and as soon as I get my divorce I intend to marry Miss Gibson."
